COLUMBUS, OHIO: FRIDAY MORNING, - - - - MAY 4

The Ohio Legislature and Mr.

Stanton. With an air of proud satisfaction, the Republican members of the Ohio Legislature indorsed Secretary Stanton, unreservedly and unqualifiedly. In him they had boundless faith. There was no guile in him. He was Radical to the core. He delighted to make his meals on roasted Rebels and Copperheads. President Johnson they could not and would not indorse. His patriotism was not pure. He could not be trusted. There was danger that he would play into the hands of the "Copperheads" by undertaking to force into Congress unsanctified, unwashed and uncombed Rebels, who would be exceedingly offensive to the polished WADE, the amiable SCHENCK and the powdered and perfumed SUMNER. Now, that Mr. STAN-Ton has taken sides with the President and against the Republican majority in Congress, would it not be well for the Ohio Legislature to be called together in extra session to cancel their indorsement of Mr. STANTON ?

Verified.

The statement detailing the Cabinet discussion on the Reconstruction committee's distranchisement amendment, is verified .-It is stated that the report, before it was given to the reporter of the Associated Press for publication, was approved by every member of the Cabinet. It appears unquestionable, then, that Mr. STANTON stands by the President, in his disagreement with the Radicals, and that the Cabinet is much more in accord with the President than the country generally believed. With truth it may be said that Mr. STANTON is not likely to dignify any cause very much; but his identification thus openly with the President is an indication that he looks upon the "policy" of the Radicals as calculated to overwhelm the Republican party with ineffable odium. Otherwise, it is not probable that he would abandon them. He has noticed the beating of the public pulse through the recent elections. It presages the dissolution of the Republican party.

Death of Hon. William Johnston. Hon. WILLIAM JOHNSTON, Representative in the last Congress from the Eighth Ohio District, died at his home in Mansfield, on Tuesday morning, May 1st, and was interred in the beautiful Cemetery of that place, on Thursday atternoon, May 3d. The Shield and Banner, in the course of its article announcing his death, says:

"He contracted a cold while addressing the people in the political campaign of 1864, which seriously affected his bronchial tubes, and was too unwell to return to Congress till after the holidays, in January, 1865. being the short session, he remained till the 4th of March; and by the urgent advice of his friends spent the greater part of last Summer, at the Danville Water Cure Establishment, in the State of New York, which greatly benefitted him; returning home, and attending to some important law cases, his cough became more troublesome. and eventually pulmonary consumption fastened upon his lungs, thus ending the brilliant career of one of our most talented members of the Bar, whose bright star was in the ascendant, and whose future promised a still greater eminence as a Lawyer and Statesman. He leaves a large family, to whom he was most tenderly devoted, and a wife who was unceasing in ministering to his every want. May Heaven soothe her bleeding heart."

We can scarce afford to lose such men as Mr. Johnston at this time-not, certainly, without recording the loss as a public calamity; and the poignant sorrow of that sacred inner circle-his own loved and devoted family-where his loss will be most keenly felt, we may not interrupt by any poor words of consolation that we could give utterance to. We can but tender them our sorrowing sympathy in this hour of bereavement and affliction; and invoke for them the consolations that come from above.

The People Prescribing for Opinion's Sake.

Indignation is indulged in against the President by Radicals, because he removes office-holders for not concurring with him in his political views. The people throughout the country are giving justification for such removals by voting Republicans out of office and voting Democrats in their places. This is becoming frequent. Another instance of this kind occurred in the city of Anderson, in Indiana, on the 1st instant, where they elected the entire Democratic ticket by majorities ranging from five to fifty. Heretofore Anderson was a Republican stronghold.

"Can We Bear More Debt?"

This question is asked by a leading Republican journal. The wholesale plunderings the country has been subjected to by Republican officials, of one sort and another, during the last five years, and the legislation of this Congress that has a tendency to protract the disordered state of the country would seem to indicate that the Republican politicians think we can bear any amount of debt.

Vast Deal of Comment.

The Cabinet discussion of the Reconstruction committee's "policy" furnished an item for very general comment in Washington political circles on the 2d inst. Mr. STANTON, in his newly assigned position of supporter and applauder of the President, was the universal theme. It don't add to the happiness of the Radicals a particle.

Will they Notice this Touching Tribute?

With particular pains every utterance of a Southern journalist, speaker or lady, that can be distorted to the prejudice of the Southern people, is retailed by Republican journalists. Will they be as quick to lay the fact before their readers that on the 26th of April the ladies of Macon, Georgia, decorated the graves of the deceased Federal and Confederate soldiers that were buried at the old cemetary in Macon? The graves were adorned by them indiscriminately.

A MAJORITY of the Cabinet are in favor of the reconstruction report.-Morning Journal.

The Tenth Congressional District. Disorderly Conduct on the Part of

The Putnam County Sentinel of the 28th of April contains an article on "the Congressional Campaign" in the Tenth District which may be regarded as having considerable significance. It thinks that Ashrey please. During Saturday night and Sun will again secure the Radics' momination, day the negroes seemed to have taken possession of certain portions of the city, that being the best manager on that side; and is, if we may judge from what occurred in suggests that Hon. W. D. Hill, of the Ohlo | the police court of yesterday, there being House of Representatives from Defiance, no less than twenty or thirty cases present be made the Democratic candidate against him. We make the following extract from of the lives of the passers by. To go to the Sentinel's article:

"For our gains and improved prospects in in our party to enlarge the field of his labors by making him our standard-bearer in representation in the State Legislature, last Democrat. winter, we only express current opinion when we say, that no Democrat in either house won a finer reputation for tact, judgment, firmness of principle and strength of character, and no one excelled him as a ready, skillful and eloquent debater. On the stump, before the people, Mr, Hill would furnish 'Colorado Jim' abundantly with the kind of opposition he has long needed. and in Congress he would represent the people of the Northwest District as we beieve an honest majority of them have long

"It is proper for us to say, that we make public these suggestions without ever hav-ing heard that Mr. Hill desires or would even accept a nomination for Congress." We take great pleasure in indorsing what the Sentinel says of the ability and efficiency of Mr. Hill as a legislator; and we know of no one in the District who is more eloquent and effective before the people. Should he be nominated and elected, he would make a most creditable Congressman-such an one as the Tenth District ought to have; but it is not our province to express a preference as between Democrats and oblige the white merchants to send out who may be candidates for nominationthat belongs to our friends in the District, who will doubtless make a wise selection from among their many able and distinguished public men. They will elect the nominee, whoever he may be.

Birds of a Feather.

The Radical politicians seem to be all of a piece, wherever they are found. Luckily there are some honest men among them, and they serve to reveal the doings of the maority. One of these rare birds, some days ago, undertook to ventilate the doings of his party in the Legislature of Pennsylvania. Alluding to the extravagance of the lower branch of that body, he said:

receiving $6.50 each per day. The work Constable's sale. He was knocked down to these nineteen men could be accomplished by three or four boys. * * One man presented a bill amounting to $2.-400. The Auditor General thought the charge enormous, and cut it down $800 .-The person presenting the bill did not complain, but gave as an excuse for his exorbitant charge, that he was to divide the profits with the Superintendent of Public Buildings." That will answer for a sample even of Missouri Radicalism. But this Pennsylvania Legislature went further in imitating ours. The last days of its existence were signalized by raising the salaries of most of the officers in the State. The Governor's was raised to $5,000, Judges' to $3,500, $4.- May, 500 and $5.000. They increased the pay of all the county officers, and finally they voted themselves $300 apiece. The fellows knew where the milk in the cocoanut lay as well as ours .- St. Louis Republican.

Accounts from Louisiana report the killing of large numbers of horses and mules in the northern part of the State by buffalo goats. One planta-tion lost thirty-eight mules and horses in one night, another twenty-five, and others from fitteen to twenty each. The buffalo gnat is quite a small insect, prevalent generally in river and creek bottoms at some seasons of the year. Great numbers of them will flit about and settle on a horse, until they so fill his nostrils and throat as to produce strangulation. Riders have often lost their horses in this way while going through a locality infested by them. Smoke is sometimes used to keep them off. -Macon (Ga.) Journal and Messenger.

That's Right-Jubilate. There is talk of the Republicans getting up jubilating demonstrations over the report that they have elected a few supervisors in Michigan. By all means, let the demonstrations be got up; for the time is the company is that of "boring or digging not far off when they will have no party victories to rejoice over.

The City Council-The Commercial's Correspondent.

The Democratic Councilmen who first bolted, and then sent a note expressing themselves dissatisfied as to the election of Mr. Comstock as President of the Council. now express a willingness to accept the situation if allowed a share in the distribution of city offices. This the Unionists re fuse to concede as a condition precedent of a return of the delinquents to duty.

This is from the Columbus correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial. The Democratic Councilmen never bolted-they only efused to recognize the pretended election of Mr. Comstock, and they still refuse to recognize him as President; and if he shall ever become President of the Columbus City Council, he will have to be legally elected to that position. We know of no Democratic Councilman who is at all disposed to back down, and dignify the farce by which Mr. Comstock was put into the Chair of the Council as a legal election; a d if any one should manifest such a disposition, he would probably find a rough and stormy time among the people who elected him. The citizens of this city are abundantly able to compose their municipal difficulties, without the impertinent intermeddling of an office-holder who resides in Cleveland, and has no interests here.

We commend them to the patronage of the people of the city and country. We say to our readers, call and see how neatly and pleasantly this establishment is fitted up. The sight itself will well repay a visit. Upon inquiry you will find another great inducement to call there often, and that is, in the excellent quality and cheapness of the goods.
